Car Crash

Stephen Day of Cremona has been charged with impaired driving after he hit a northbound vehicle Sunday on Hwy QE2 at approximately 4:30 p.m. Day entered the highway from Bergen Rd. and did not stop at the stop sign. Day, age 49, hit a vehicle with a man and woman in it, but there were no injuries. Day is also charged with driving over .08mgs, driving an uninsured vehicle, and driving with a suspended license. He is due in Didsbury Provincial Court on March. 13.

Cat traps in, first step in cat bylaw

by Tamara Collins

Three cat traps arrived at the Didsbury town office last week, marking the first step towards implementing the newly passed cat bylaw.

The cat traps, which combined cost the town $400, will soon be available to residents who are having a problem with a cat on their property, for a $100 refundable deposit.

Although the traps are in, they will not be leant out until the cat tags arrive.

The tags will enable the town to identify whose cat they have trapped.

The cat tags have been ordered and should arrive within a couple weeks.

After they arrive, cat owners will be given a one month grace period to get their cats licensed.

All cats must be licensed, even if your cat stays indoors.

If it were ever to escape you would face a $100 fine for your cat being at large and another $75 fine for not having it licensed.

For the first month the cat licenses are available they will be free of charge.

Bylaw officer Greg Hnatiuk, shows one of the new cat traps that will be used for the cat bylaw.

Every September they will be half price and every January the licenses will be free.

On a regular month, the cost of a license is $15 for a spayed or neutered cat, or $30 for an unaltered cat.

If your cat is trapped it will be taken to Krebs Vet and Co. and held there until the cat is

"We will also be putting the animals impounded on our website, so you can go on there and see photos and descriptions of the animals and see if yours is on there."

When a stray cat is trapped and brought to Krebs, every effort will be made to adopt it out, said town officials.

The cat will be disposed of in a humane way only if adoption is unsuccessful.

This will be the same for cats that nobody claims. Cat owners have four days to claim their pet.

"We make every effort to adopt out every animal, we are yet to put one down," said Andy Mencarelli, Krebs Vet and Co.

"This service is a huge benefit, so when people lose a pet they will not have to go to Red Deer to get it back. It is close by, and it is a lot less expensive for the town and the owner. Also if the animal is injured it can be taken care of very quickly."

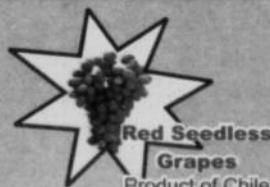

Hnatiuk expects it will be around the beginning of April before the cat bylaw is in full effect.

"It is going to be a learning process," said Hnatiuk. "The full guidelines and bylaw are on our website, so people can go there for more information."

The website for the town is www.didsbury.ca.

Medication study looks at seniors

by Dan Singleton

Seniors across central Alberta, including those in Red Deer and Mountain View Counties, are being encouraged to participate in a new medication study taking place this month.

The Seniors and Medication study is being conducted by psychology students at Red Deer College. It started on Feb. 1 and runs through to Feb. 17.

Participants, age 60 and older, will be asked what type and how many medications they are taking and what the medications are for, said Dr. Scott Oddie, psychology instructor at the college and study organizer.

"We will also be asking them some questions, basically to examine some basic cognitive abilities such as their memory, their language abilities, what level of schooling because we need to correct for that. What we are looking for is basically the potential for what we call adverse drug interactions," said Dr. Oddie.

"When seniors age they may be on as many as two to eight different prescribed and non-prescribed meds and as a result that can lead to adverse drug interactions, side effects that are not really wanted, such as poor memory, confusion, poor balance, that sort of thing."

"We are looking to describe that polypharmacy (multiple medications) and ADR (adverse drug reaction) affects in our seniors who are living at home."

The information being collected will allow the researchers to educate the medical community and "improve the lives of older adults living in the community. After we look at this group in central Alberta we first would need to identify is there a potential for adverse drug interaction among them," said Oddie.

"We currently know that as many as 10 to 25 per cent of hospital admissions are due to adverse drug interactions and we also know from literature that perhaps only about five to 15 per cent of those adverse drug interactions are being identified in primary care settings," he said.

"Given what we find with the study, we would then use that information to help target education at those who practice in our health regions such as doctors and physicians."

Seniors will be questioned at the Red Deer College Health Research office or in their homes in central Alberta.

No personal information will be recorded in the study, and participants can discontinue their participation at any time, he said.

Among those conducting the study are six research assistants who are fourth year University of Calgary students attending Red Deer College.

Once the data is collected it will be analysed before being released, he said.

"We are hoping to present the results of the study at the Canadian Psychological Association conference in the spring. We also hope to provide some of the results at the Nursing and Health Research conference at the Red Deer College on April 11."

Oddie conducted a similar study on a smaller scale in 1999.

"This new one would be the first of its kind in our region, especially looking at polypharmacy and ADR in our seniors living at home. Researchers hope to interview at least 50 or 60 seniors for the study.

Anyone interested in participating in the Seniors and Medication Study can contact researchers at 1-403-357-3678 to set up an appointment.

Incidentally, Red Deer College is also currently conducting a separate study with physicians "looking at how they feel they are able to treat our older adult population and perhaps looking at their need for professional development, particularly in the area of geriatrics," said Oddie.

Changes coming...

TAMARA COLLINS
EDITORIAL

In the past four months the Review has seen some major changes such as a new owner, joining a bigger group, our Regional section, and now of course going free!

Next week even more changes will be coming, all in an effort to make our paper the best it can be.

Our new look - yes, we are getting a new look, and I am very excited about this. It is going to be fresh and appealing. The new look will be throughout the paper, starting on the front page, and going straight through to the end.

Along with these changes, we are going to be saying goodbye to some things in our paper, including the FACES page. This week's FACES column will be the last, after many years.

This will be a big change for the community, but I would like it to be very clear that I still want to hear from you about things that would have gone into FACES, and we will find the best possible way to get them into the paper. Maybe it will fall better in the news section or the sports section. We are just not confining these stories to one single page, but where they best fit.

We really appreciate all your support and understanding during this time, and if you have any feedback feel free to email me at review@didsbury.greatwest.ca

Happy Valentine's Day!

Alberta extends natural gas rebate program for three years; October continues as a sixth rebate month

Alberta's natural gas rebate program will continue to shield Albertans from high home heating costs until March 2009, due to a three-year extension of the program by the provincial government.

"Alberta's one-of-a-kind rebate program is one of the ways Albertans share in the benefits of resource ownership," said Greg Melchin, Minister of Energy. "Over seven hundred million dollars in assistance has been provided to Albertans since this program was introduced three years ago. Not only is the province maintaining this program for another three years, we're making a few upgrades to expand the assistance given to consumers."

As was done this past fall, October will continue to be a rebate month under the program. This gives consumers financial assistance over the six-month time period when they use almost 80 per cent of their annual natural gas. Other changes include giving agricultural consumers the ability to select their six rebate months after the fact, rather than in advance and consumers who receive their heat from district heating systems that utilize renewable energy may now be eligible to receive financial assistance from the rebate program.

The bulk of the program remains unchanged. Most Albertans will continue to receive the rebate directly on their natural gas bill when two of the three major gas companies charge regulated rates over $5.50 per gigajoule (GJ). The rebate amount will continue to increase as the price of gas rises, with the maximum cost of natural gas to most Alberta consumers capped at $8.75/GJ.

All eligible homes and businesses, regardless of whether they pay the regulated rate or are part of a competitive contract, receive rebates under the Natural Gas Rebate Program. Consumers using propane, kerosene, and heating oil are eligible to apply for equivalent rebates when natural gas rebates are triggered. Albertans already have among the lowest gas prices in Canada before the rebate is factored in, with Albertans paying approximately five per cent less than the national average in 2005.

More information on Alberta's Natural Gas Rebate Program can be found on the Alberta government's web site at: www.gov.ab.ca.

Wonderings of the heart

by Margaret Fradley

"Being Thankful"

Are there times when we find it difficult to focus on the many things we have to be thankful for? Times when things are difficult, times when we are hurting, or perhaps just feel 'blah'.

Recently I received a letter from a close friend, who mentioned in her letter, in very vehement terms, that she had nothing to be thankful for. She had just returned from a trip to England to see her brother who was very ill, and her letter was indeed a hard one to read and caused me a lot of pain and sorrow.

My first thought was to write and remind her of all she had to be thankful for, then as I began to think about it, I realized that at that moment she just could not 'think thanks' and that my words would be empty in her ears. I felt it was necessary for me to feel her pain, pray for her, and try to comfort her.

Many times overwhelming thoughts and situations come upon us and we just find it hard going, and we need one another's understanding. Sometime ago my daughter sent me a challenge, she had read a book in which the author suggested his readers take time in the morning for one week, to write out 50 things they are thankful for. Amazingly enough, as I began this exercise it took some time to come up with 50, but as the week drew near it became much easier, many of the things I remembered to be thankful for, were things I often took for granted.

A thankful heart is a wonderful thing. Perhaps we too can take time to just 'be thankful'.

Hopefully it was just a bad day...

Dear Carrie.....

(re: last week's letter titled "Attention rude people in town")

It saddens me to know how petty and negative you seem to be. I hope you were just having a bad day, as everyone has a bad day every now and then and is entitled to it. I hope that you have insight enough to realize that the things you are complaining about are in a sense what makes our lives here in Canada so wonderful! People are able to own pets to have as companions and have the freedom to walk these pets without worry of gunfire and bombs etc. There are stores that you can shop in and have the money to shop in to buy extras, and it's great that the staff seem to have a sense of humor. People have children and can feel safe to bring them out in public, these children may cry at times but they must be allowed to feel what they are feeling it is their right as it was yours when you took the liberty to write that letter. It is wonderful that people have friends and can own businesses that you are able to shop in. We have a beautiful life here in Didsbury, Alberta, Canada. Many people live in daily fear for their lives, or don't have enough food to eat let alone money to shop for other things. There are many people who cannot even drink water, nor hear the sound of their children crying because these children are too sick and weak to make a sound. Isn't it great that we have all these opportunities and live in one of the nicest towns around. You have choices, which is more than many can say. It is hard to see people who are so busy looking down their nose at the world that they never look up to see the serious problems we as a people are facing. I hope your mood has improved and I seriously hope for your sake that you can start seeing the brighter side of things. Good Luck.

CHAMBER CHAT Thanks for a good year

As we enter a new year in 2006, this is a good time to convey some much deserved thanks.

Thank you to all our members for believing in the Chamber of Commerce during these growing years, and the value our programs and member benefits can bring your business. The continued growth of the Chamber is a result of your faith in what we do.

Thank you to all the residents of Didsbury for your interest, your feedback and encouragement, and for passing the message on to others that shopping here at home can be very rewarding.

Thank you to all our sponsors ... those who contributed financial assistance, door prizes, gift certificates, tools or resources for the benefit of their community. Thanks to the staff and council of the Town of Didsbury; we have worked together on several projects and look forward to continuing this successful relationship.

Special thanks to all our volunteers, not just business members and individuals, but also those involved in community organizations, for their regular contributions to Chamber activities. Without groups like the Didsbury Lions Club, 1st Didsbury Scouts, Didsbury High School Grads, Zion Evangelical Missionary Church Youth Group, Iwa Yama Karate Club, West Didsbury 4-H Club, and Didsbury Seniors Supports, many of our projects would not succeed. Thank you to those who have enjoyed the Chamber newsletter, "TGIT", and have provided articles or suggestions for future issues.

Thank you to our website visitors ... those who asked to link to our website, and who link back to us, or simply share some of the information with their friends and business acquaintances.

The Chamber of Commerce looks forward to being a part of your business life in 2006!

Just a few more weeks and we hope to see enough snow to host the Rosebud Run Sleddog Classic on February 25 & 26. Chamber members and volunteers are also gearing up for the annual Trade Show that will be held April 1 and 2. Booth bookings are being accepted now; if you are interested, call Joelle Fournier at 335-9742. For more information on the Chamber, give us a call at 335-3265, send us an e-mail at info@didsburychamber.ca or check us out on the web at www.didsburychamber.ca.

CESD teleconferencing helps reach students in a new way

by Shawne Mohl

The impossible has just become possible within Chinook's Edge School Division (CESD) with the help of video conferencing equipment.

During last month's CESD's board meeting in Innisfail, the first ever video conference was held between students at Elnora School and board trustees.

Video conferencing is a method of communication that links sound and video images between two parties, in separate locations to interact with one another.

The school division now has four of the $10,000 video conference units, one each in Cremona School, Olds High School, Bowden Grandview, and Elnora School.

According to Dean Jarvey, CESD director of technology services, this newly introduced technology will allow schools, especially smaller urban schools, to do so much more.

"There are a whole variety of uses this can be used for," he said.

In the future once all schools are equipped with this technology, Jarvey said a teacher can be in one location and students spread out around the school division.

In many smaller schools there are some programs that are not offered because the population is just too small, like some science programs which some students require to gain admission into post-secondary institutions.

Jarvey says that in the future CESD's hope is that this technology will take those borders that once existed and erase them, allowing students to learn through video conferencing.

Other things that have been talked about are having virtual field trips.

One example Jarvey used was having scientists at the Tyrell Museum of Palaeontology in Drumheller conduct a tour using this equipment with various schools throughout the province.

This would allow students to travel to this museum within seconds without even leaving the comfort of their desks in the classrooms.

"The possibilities (of this technology) go on and on," Jarvey said.

The hope in the future is to have this equipment in every school. Currently the four units that CESD owns are portable units, meaning that they can be moved from site to site.

Dean Jarvey, CESD director of technology, shows the board the teleconferencing equipment last month at a board meeting.

paid out.

"It really opens up the opportunities for everyone," said Gibbons.

The four units which CESD

currently owns will be used and tested this year and next year if the funds are available, more units will be purchased, Jarvey said.

Colts clinch a playoff spot

Saturday night the Three Hills Thrashers came calling to be the opposition of the Mountain View Colts. With the first period being a penalty filled event the Colts managed to build a 3-1 lead with Pat Turville, Ian Brander and Brad Edwards scoring. The second period the Colts saw their lead slip away as the Thrashers penetrated the Colts end of the ice scoring the game's next three goals.

Scott Murphy would capitalize on a Thrasher giveaway for a shorthanded goal early in the third and Murphy would also set up the game winning goal by Byron Campbell for a 5-4 Colts win.

Sunday afternoon the Colts traveled to Ponoka to put their 3 game winning streak on the line with the Ponoka Stampeders. The Stampeders owned the score board for the first and second period earning them selves a 4-1 lead.

The Colts were able to regroup for the third period scoring 3 unanswered goals to send the game to overtime. Just 42 seconds into overtime, Jeff Clazie would score to give the Colts the victory and their fourth straight win.

With a pair of weekend victories and 6 league games remaining, the Colts would clinch a playoff spot sitting in third place with their sites on second spot.

The Colts next home game is Saturday February 11th, with the Stettler Lightning at 8pm. Come out and cheer for our Mountain View Colts!

NEIGHBORHOOD

At The Kitchen Table

by Noreen Olson

We have a wonderful bunch of chickadees this winter. Our feeders and suet are busy from dawn 'til dusk. I wish there were some way to count them but as they are all very similar it's impossible to tell how many of them there really are. There is one little guy with no tail and we wondered if we were to count how many times he comes in one day, and then divide that into the total number of chickadees who came to the feeder on that day, or in the interest of accuracy one should probably do this over, say a four day period, and then divide by four and again by the number of visits. Well you can see that this would be terribly complicated and time consuming and about the only thing it would accomplish is that it would give me an excuse to avoid housework, so I don't suppose I will ever actually do it.

We have had tailless chickadees before and over a three or four week period the tail grows back so we are not concerned about our little friend. He seems perfectly happy and arrives at the feeder like a thrown tennis ball. Chickadees are cheerful and friendly whatever the circumstance and on the dreariest sort of day they seem to be happy and sweet natured.

Several of my bird books have illustrations of chickadees feeding from an outstretched hand or perching trustfully on a finger. I have always wanted to try hand feeding them but I understand that the way to do it is to hold out a handful of food and stand patiently for a long, long time. So far I have not done this but I have not given up hope that one day I will.

Ours are Black Capped Chickadees, they are about 5 1/4 inches long, (13 cms) have a black cap, white cheeks and a black bib. Breast and belly are whitish or buff, upper parts are grey with slightly darker tail and flight feathers. Wing covers and secondaries are broadly edged in white, bill, legs and feet are black. They live year round in every Province and Territory, in Alaska and the whole of the Northern US. They overlap with the Mountain Chickadee on the west coast and the Carolina Chickadee in the SE US. There are also Mexican Chickadees and in the British Isles they are known as Titmice. The family they belong to is widely distributed in the Northern Hemisphere and the Norwegian equivalent is Svartmeis, in Japan they are Higara and Kugara, in Denmark they are Musvit.

The black capped chickadees song is one of the most complex in the animal kingdom. With slight variations in phrasing chickadees send messages that establish contact, sound an alarm, recognize another flock or announce their identity. Their summer and winter songs are quite different and it's only in fall and winter that you hear the real "chick-a-dee-dee-dee." In summer you hardly notice them but they are out there, searching in crevices and cracks, eating insects and seeds. Once in a while one checks the spot where the suet hung all winter and then goes back to his summer job. I have never seen a nest but they will use nest boxes and blue bird fanciers report chickadee nests in bluebird houses.

Chickadees like thickly wooded coulees, river valleys and established windbreaks. They are scarce on the prairies and in the mountains. They like suet and sunflower seeds and they love peanuts. We only feed them in winter but my sister in law Marie keeps her feeders going year round so in summer she gets chickadees along with dozens of other species. One nice warm day when she had her windows open, Marie heard what she thought was a chickadee but he was awfully loud. When she investigated she found a chickadee sitting on a picture frame on her living room wall. He continued to sing but didn't seem terribly upset or worried.

Marie opened more windows and a couple of doors and then got her yardstick to sort of encourage and guide him to freedom. As she held her yardstick near the bird he fluttered off the picture frame and lit on the end of the stick. Moving slowly and carefully she carried the bird to an open window and he flew off into the sunshine.

I'll bet Marie could get chickadees to hand feed.

DMHA RAMBLER MINUTE

Pee Wee Tier 3 team

We would like to introduce you to Didsbury's Pee Wee Tier 3 team. We have a great bunch of kids, parents, coaches and fans. Because minor hockey only had enough players register to make 1 team this season, we have 18 players, including two goalies. We are sitting third place in our tier in the Central Alberta Hockey League (CAHL). We have played 13 league games with 5 wins, 6 losses and 2 ties. We can also brag that 3 of our players are the top scorers for our division. We only have 2 league games left and are currently fighting for a playoff spot. Regardless of whether or not the team makes playoffs, the kids wouldn't even be out there doing what they love without the coaches; Gord Kerr, Cam Morris, Doug Miller, and Kris Jackson. They are the reason the kids love coming to the rink week after week - a BIG "thank-you" to you coaches. Well, hopefully we will be writing next month that the Pee Wee's took home the banner - GO RAMBLERS GO!!!!

Player introduction: Nathan Groot, Jordan Kerr, Nic Fischer, Charles Flodell, Zac Fleming, Daniel Graf, Connor Hanson, Maija Lappala, Riley Latour, James Lefebvre, Nicole Miller, Kelvin Peterson, Daniel Pochapsky, Michelle Pochapsky, Logan Redman, Cole Robertson, Travis Smith and Jacob Strautman.

This Week's Action:

Tyke 1: No report

Tyke 2: No report

Novice: Defeated the Olds Female team

Atom: Playing two league games this weekend, the Atoms travelled to Standard Friday night to defeat Strathmore 9-2. Sunday, on home ice, Didsbury defeated Nanton 11-

3. Atoms play two league games next weekend to finish off league play.

PeeWee: Saturday, played Hanna at home and lost 7-5. On Sunday, the Pee Wees travelled to Cochrane, playing a close game. They lost 4-3. These were the Pee Wee's last league games, so the Pee Wees will be keeping their fingers crossed that they make playoffs. But if not, the team will be picking up some exhibition games and maybe a tournament.

Bantam: Played at home against High River and lost 4-1. Bantams are at High River next Saturday for a rematch and this will be their last league game. Bantams are sitting pretty well for playoffs, regardless of the loss on Saturday.

Midget: No report.
At the rink: February 12, 2006 4:30 p.m. ATOM VS COCHRANE

NEIGHBOURHOOD

Focus on the Family

QUESTION: My husband died two years ago, leaving me and our two children behind. I have met a wonderful man -- a widower with two kids -- and we plan to marry. Where should we start to build our new family? And could you identify the issues that are likely to be most difficult for us?

DR. DOBSON: I would strongly suggest that you get some outside help as you bring your two families together. It is extremely difficult to do that on your own, and for some people, it is impossible. If you can afford professional counseling from a marriage, family and child counselor who has dealt with blended families, it would be wise to get that assistance. A pastor also might be able to guide you, although there are some tough relationship issues to be handled by a professional who has "been there" before.

One of your kids is likely to see your future husband as a usurper. When a mother or father dies or when a divorce occurs, one child often moves into the power vacuum left by the departing parent. That youngster becomes the surrogate spouse. I'm not referring to sexual matters. Rather, that boy or girl becomes more mature than his or her years and relates to the remaining parent more as a peer. The status that comes with that supportive role is very seductive, and he or she is usually unwilling to give it up. The stepfather becomes a threat to that child. Much work must be done to bring them together.

The kids' loyalty to the memory of their dad is another issue that requires sensitive handling. In their eyes, to welcome the newcomer with open arms would be an act of betrayal. That's certainly understandable and something that must be worked through with your children.

I would say the greatest problem you will face, however, is the way you and your husband will feel about your kids. Each of you is irrationally committed to your own; you're merely acquainted with the others. When fights and insults occur between the two sets of children, you will be tempted to be partial to those you brought into the world, and your husband will probably favor his own flesh and blood. The natural tendency is to let the blended family dissolve into armed camps -- us against them. If the kids sense any tension between you and your husband over their clashes, they will exploit and exaggerate it to gain power over the other children, etc.

I have painted a worst-case scenario in order to prepare you for what could occur. Now let me encourage you. Many of these problems can be anticipated and lessened. Others can be avoided altogether. It is possible to blend families successfully, and millions have done it. But the task is difficult, and you will need some help in pulling it off.

QUESTION: I am 21 and still at home. I am very comfortable there, and I plan to stay with my parents for a long time. Why not? Tell me why you think it is unwise to go on living where it is cheaper and easier than getting out on your own.

DR. DOBSON: There are individual situations when it makes sense to live with your parents for a longer time, and maybe yours is one of them. I would caution you, however, not to overstay your welcome. That would not be in your best interests or those of your folks. Remaining too long under the parents' roof is not unlike an unborn baby who refuses to leave the womb. He has every reason to stay awhile. It is warm and cozy there. All his needs are met in that stress-free environment. He doesn't have to work or study or discipline himself.

But it would be crazy to stay beyond the nine months intended. He can't grow and learn without leaving the security of that place. His development will be arrested until he enters the cold world and takes a few whacks on his behind. It is to everyone's advantage, and especially to the welfare of his mother, that he slide on down the birth canal and get on with life.

So it is in young adulthood. Until you cut the umbilical cord and begin providing for yourself, you will remain in a state of arrested development. Remaining at home with Mom and Dad is the perpetuation of childhood. It may be time to put it behind you.

Give lacrosse a chance

McKinley Nelson

The Didsbury Lacrosse Association is giving four to 16 year-olds a chance to try out the sport for an evening, become more informed about it, and learn the expenses involved in joining.

This new player clinic will take place Feb. 23 in the multi-purpose room (MPR) at 6 p.m.

"The clinic is for people who have never played before, it will help them get an idea if they are interested before they register," said Dave Nelson of the association. "Kids from the club this year will be there with their equipment, for everyone to look at, and their parents can talk to you and give you an idea of how their kids like it."

Nets and sticks will be available for the kids to use to practice shooting and handling to give them a general idea of what the sport is like.

"Most people who try it fall in love with it and get hooked for life," said Nelson.

Registration nights will take place prior to the clinic on Feb. 7 in the curling rink and on Feb. 16 in the MPR, both nights from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. The cost ranges from $80 for the season for the mini-tykes, to $180 for the midgets. The season runs from April 1 to June 30, and there are practices once a week. Game times vary.

Registration will be accepted until the middle of April so if your child decides after the clinic that they want to join, there is still lots of time to do so. The Didsbury Lacrosse Association is also looking to change their name, and they will be having a contest to do so in the near future. Watch for more details.

Didsbury 5th annual stick curling bonspiel

Every year this event gets bigger and bigger and draws in more curlers, according to organizer Carson Schultz. This year will be no different.

Didsbury's stick curling bonspiel, which is in its fifth year, is set to go again this year, from Feb. 14 to the 18. Curlers will compete during the week for the finals, which take place on the Saturday but only 32 teams will qualify. Each team will only curl one of the days unless they make the finals.

The bonspiel only has room for 64 teams of two people. Games will start in the mornings at 9 a.m. and the last draw will take place each day at 3 p.m. at the Didsbury Curling Rink.

"Games are on and off every hour," said Schultz. "They are only hour long games, so people won't get cold or bored."

Organizers are strongly encouraging people to come out and watch the event. The kitchen and lounge will remain open throughout the event.

"Anything to promote the sport of curling, it is a great game," said Schultz. "It is fun and easy. I encourage people to come and watch and maybe next year they will want to join our league." To register you can contact Carson Schultz at 335-4954. "There are a lot of great prizes this year thanks to our many sponsors," said Schultz. "It is nice to support each other in our community."

Walk your way to health

Get up and get active with your community in a new walking program which will be offered through Pharmasave.

Margaret Baril, diabetes educator and health care professional, would like to invite you to join the Pharmasave walking club between Feb. 27 and March 4.

During those days Pharmasave will be celebrating their grand opening, and in store they will have a table set up for people to sign up for the walking club.

"I want to encourage people to become more active," said Baril. "I not only want to encourage those who want to start walking to sign up, but also those who already walk."

The club will meet weekly, and learn helpful tips about nutrition, shoes, your walking form, and much more.

Everyone will head out for a walk together, and according to Baril people will group up with others who will walk around the same

"I want to get a map of Canada, and keep track of everyone's kms to see how far across Canada we can walk."

-Margaret Baril

speed and distance.

For the rest of the week people must make their own walking arrangements.

Everyone in the group will be given a walking log to keep track of their kms. They will also receive maps about routes to try in town, some goodies, and they will have regular draws to help keep people motivated.

"I want to get a map of Canada, and keep track of everyone's kms to see how far across Canada we can walk," said Baril. "Walking is an activity for everyone because you can do it at your own pace."

At some point Baril also wants to challenge the schools to get involved in the program.

"I think this will link in well with the Westglen School walking service, we want to take advantage of this service that is already available," said Baril.

This is a free service for the whole family, according to Baril, to help the community get more active and take a more proactive vs. reactive approach on their health.

5 OBITUARIES

LECLAIRE

It is with deep sadness we announce the passing of Eugene LeClaire on January 16, 2006, at the age of 90 years. Eugene was born on September 28, 1915 in Lachine, Quebec to Alcide and Albina LeClaire. He was the youngest of five boys - John, Ernest, Remi and Gabe. His family moved to the present family farm at Springside when Eugene was 4 years old. He attended Springside School until grade nine then went on to the Jesuit College in Edmonton to finish high school and study accounting. He then returned to the farm and took over its operation following the passing of his father. In the fall of 1943, Eugene's life was forever enriched when he met the new Springside school teacher, Mary Marston, whom he married on December 27, 1948. Together with Mary, Eugene took life-long pride in meticulously tending to the farm, but most of all was committed to building a home life for their family of eight children - a place to gather, celebrate, commiserate and grow. Eugene will be remembered for his kind, gentle ways toward all that knew him. People, especially children, and animals gravitated to him as he exuded a quiet, non-threatening aura, making you feel welcome, safe and "good". Eugene was predeceased by his father Alcide, his mother Albina, brothers John, Ernest, Remi, Gabe and his youngest son Danny. He will be forever sadly missed by his wife Mary, children Lorraine (Ron), Roger (Penny), Richie, Nan (Joe), Sue, Kathy (Kevin) and Jen (Steve), grandchildren Darren (Shannon), Cameron (Patti), Lindsay (Jeff), Logan, Luke, Cole, Amy, Hannah and Jocelyn, great grandchildren Noah, Emma, Brooklyn, Carter, Zack and Blake as well as numerous relatives friends and neighbors. Funeral Mass was held Friday, January 20, 2006 at St. Stephen's Catholic Church in Olds with Father Les Drewicki officiating. If friends so desire memorial tributes may be made to Unit One, Didsbury District Health Services, Bag 130, Didsbury, AB T0M 0W0.

Canada. Betty had wanted to have her remains returned to the family plot in Scotland, which the family will honor. As a tribute to Elizabeth Leslie, a tree will be planted in the Heartland Tree Memorial Park, Olds. Heartland Funeral Service Ltd., Olds entrusted with arrangements. 44-11

Wyntjes

Doris May Wyntjes of Didsbury passed away in Calgary on January 30, 2006 at the age of 78 years, with loved ones by her side. Doris was born in Abbey, Saskatchewan on December 21, 1927, the only girl in a family of six children. After she graduated from high school she attended college in Medicine Hat where she obtained an accounting degree. She married Thure Johnson on September 19, 1949. They moved to Airdrie, Alberta where their two children, Kelly and Mama were born. They moved to Didsbury in 1957 where Doris worked at the Treasury Branch for 20 years. Her husband Thure passed away at the age of 66 years. On November 1, 1986 Doris married John Wyntjes and they enjoyed 19 loving years of sharing their lives and families together. Doris enjoyed knitting and baking and had a special love for animals, especially dogs. Doris faced many courageous battles with her health in the last few years and she wanted her family and friends to remember her for her love and precious moments spent with them. She is survived by her husband John Wyntjes of Didsbury, son Kelly (Vicky) of Didsbury, daughter Mama (Stewart) of Rocky Mountain house, brother Leonard Linder (Darlene) of Cabri, Saskatchewan, 8 stepchildren, 16 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren. She was predeceased by her mother Ethel Linder, father Adam Benjamin Linder, first husband Thure Johnson, brothers Percy, Stanley, Gordon and Harold and great grandson Joel Terpsma. If friends so desire, memorial tributes may be made to the Didsbury Knox United Church Memorial Fund. Condolences may be forwarded to the family from www.mountainviewfuneralchapel.com. A celebration of life was held at Knox United Church, Didsbury on Thursday, February 2, 2006 at 2:00 p.m. with reverend Nancy House officiating. Arrangements entrusted to Mountain View Funeral Chapel, Didsbury. 44-11

NEIGHBOURHOOD

Prairie Partners update

by David Dowell

On January 8, 2006, the Prairie Partners 4-H club held their multi Judging day at Mr. & Mrs. Murray Rasmussen's farm. We invited the West Didsbury 4-H club to attend. We judged replacement heifers, sheep, silage, grain, trucks and heavy horses at Mr. & Mrs. Andersons. With Mr. Roger Leclaire showing us what to look for in judging heavy horses. We also had to identify animal's feet from pictures of feet. We would like to thank everyone for bringing livestock, and judging, and also Mrs. Bev Rasmussen for the great hamburgers and lunch.

On January 12, at 7:30 we held our monthly meeting at Lone Pine Hall. We discussed our club public speaking and it will be on January 21 at Lone Pine Hall. We are also in charge of our Area speak off in February also at Lone Pine Hall. We also discussed the county Multi judging in Olds on January 28 at the Cow Palace.

On January 21 we held our club public speaking at Lone Pine Hall. The club would like to thank all the parents for a great lunch and to Gary Shultz for organizing the day and getting the judges. We would also like to thank all the judges for their comments on how to improve. Our members that are going on to Area public speakoffs are: Seniors: Jared Hunter, and Wade Hannah with David Dowell as alternate, Intermediate: Ryan Hunter and Stephanie Rasmussen with Shane Dowell as alternate, and Juniors: Travis Hunter and Cassandra Rasmussen.

And on January 28

we all went to Olds Cow Palace to compete in the County multi judging, with the other club in the county and clubs from the Calgary region, there were over 200 4-H members there. We judged dairy heifer, beef heifers, sheep, horse, hay, and a couple of fun things like choosing a 4-H heifer and put on a skit promoting 4-H.

Our next meeting is February 9, at 7:30 p.m. at Lone Pine Hall.
